
Roomies wanted

Posted by Fubie - 2006/05/05 14:43

Hi, responded to someone's post for a rommie already, but just in case she's already found someone, or would like to have some more information about me, here I go,

I'm a 19 year old female, straight. I don't smoke, don't yell scream or throw cats at people, basically I'm not crazy..>3
Anyway, I'm looking for roomies because the cost of airplane tickets is gonna break me, and if they want we can..become friends? puppy dog eyes

I want to stay 19-23, but I'm willing to compromise to 20-23

I like animals, and to read, and to draw, heey I'll draw up some free yaois ^_~

This will be my FIRST CON. Haa, so I go all the way to cali.

Anyway, I need some more information on the hotels, like do we pay ahead of time? (that would make sense..) And how much it'd be for two-four people. And HOPEFULLY it's not all booked.

Yeah I'd like at most four people..I'm only a cashier ^^ I make little money..

We have plenty time to get to know each other!

Anyway, aim me or e-mail me, or help me =3

Fubie

edit And I'm looking for girls ^^

Roommate needed?

Posted by JemDragon84 - 2006/05/08 15:28

Hey, I'm looking for a roommate. Is your offer still available? I'm a 21 yr old female. Don't ask about sexuality, i don't think i have one. Anywho, I'll be coming by myself and having a roomie who be nice, so if the offer still stands please consider me, please. Hope to hear from you soon.

Yeah, that's what they all say. grin Just teasing. ^^

Wow, congratulations on making your first convention be Yaoi-Con 2006~! You're in for a pleasant surprise, and a whole lot of debaucherous fun. May I ask where you're from that you have to travel to California? There are lots of really nice people on these forums, so you're bound to make some good friends that you can stay with. :)

As for the hotels being booked, don't worry about that just yet. Information about that would've been posted on this Web site by now if that were the case. I'm sure that you can still get a room at either hotel.

Oh, hi. I think I am going to book a room, so when I do I'll let you know.

Do you mind sharing with two other people?

I'm tying to get four people, I need to at least try to be conserving in my money, lol.

So that leaves two more peeps then ^^

Fubie, no I think so, but If I have to to share a bed lets just say that they better be prepared to end up on the floor cause I toss and turn all the time.

I posted on one of the other boards, but if that doesn't work out I'd be happy to share a room with three other peeps ^^.

18 yr old female, 's going to be my 1st y-con, & I'm flying in from LAX. Which hotel do you want to book at? (Westin or Clarion)

Which Hotel?

Posted by JemDragon84 - 2006/05/11 14:05

Hey does anyone know how much one of the hotels cost? And if we can't get a room at the main ones is there any else closer, and maybe cheaper? And maybe werekat, fubie and I can get a room together. It's all our first time at the con? What do ya'll think?

Werekat?

Posted by JemDragon84 - 2006/05/11 14:07

Hey werekat how much is the ticket from LAX to San Fran? I can't find it.

First of all, Jem, chill...

Hey does anyone know how much one of the hotels cost?
<http://www.yaoicon.com/content/view/10/35/> (y-con) location page > hotels
Westin's got singles/doubles for $107.00 & Clarion's got singles/doubles for $92.00
Westin's got triples for $139.00 & Clarion's got triples for $102.00
Westin's got quads for $149.00 & Clarion's got quads for $112.00
most of the con's happening at the Westin, though there are events at the Clarion

And if we can't get a room at the main ones is there any else closer, and maybe cheaper?
I honestly have no clue.

And maybe werekat, fubie and I can get a room together. It's all our first time at the con? What do ya'll think?

Yeah, that's cool... if we can get a 4th person, the rates would go down even more. I'll be up there from Thurs. night to Sun. Afternoon, so I need a room Thurs-Sat (3 nights)... I don't know how that'd work for you guys, though.

Hey werekat how much is the ticket from LAX to San Fran? I can't find it.
Hmm... well, it might be different, depending on the date you leave/return, but when I looked it up for mine (19-22) it was $143.59.
(check Expedia.com). <http://www.expedia.com/pub/agent.dll?tovr=-1294727294&fwso=0>

I'm trying to figure out when would be a good time to reserve the flight for though...

Yeah, sounds cool :)
... maybe a 4th person though to make the prices go down

Random questy... I'm going to leave Sunday afternoon (like around 5-7) so would I need to pay for a fourth night or could I just leave my stuff in the room with whoever would be staying for Sunday night.

Re: Roomies wanted

Posted by Fubie - 2006/05/14 18:09

I..um..If you were going to be leaving why would you leave your stuff? Would you be coming back?
In any case, if you're using the room it would be fair to pay for it.

That did sound a bit wierd didn't it o_O
...what I meant was could I leave my stuff in the room till I leave for the airport Sunday afternoon... I'd take it with me though (...usually check out times are around noon and I'd be leaving about 5pm).

Awww, that's easy... :)

If you have formerly had a room at the hotel, the hotel will gladly hold your luggage at the front desk for you after you leave your room... until you're ready to leave the hotel (or switch rooms, they don't care). :)

Thanks for the info Irvine. :) ...Well that's one problem I don't have to worry 'bout now.

This offer still open? @.@

My con-buddy and I are revving up for our second year attending, I'm 19 and she'll be 21. She was supposed to be attending the Academy of and have her own place for me to crash at for the con, but things aren't looking like they'll happen that way >.< Would love to help bring down your hotel costs some more. We're very quiet and keep to ourselves, promise promise.
