I'm not THAT great at drawing...but I had so much fun last year in the art hallway, and I met some great people too ^^.
So even though I didn't sell crap last year, I am STILL going to sign up for a table this year! ~CHEERS~ and this is what my art looks like if any one cares.

(I HOPE these links work, Deviantart.com is very BAD about letting none members view member's art work, especially when it is marked mature OO)

I love your artwork akaiko! The molestation one even got a rare chuckle out of me :) I used to be so good at art I could draw anime and Ren and Stimpny on a dime. It's been several years but eventually I will get caught up to your skill and who knows, surpass it maybe :) More the reason to come to San Fran, but...jeez I have never been to the opposite end of the country by myself. Not that I fear it but, it would just be a weird experience. But to own artwork from the famous artista akaiko hiba would be more than worth the trip ;)

You are already better then me if you can draw on a dime. That's so small! If I had to draw on something that small, I would get eye strain! :P Just kidding ^^ If you wanna get better then me, then work at it! I persnally recomend Copic markers, they are what I use. They are hella expensive, yes, but they are SOOOOO Worth it!

falls over Remind me not to use catch phrases around hiba. She will actually use the literal context : p Actually I never persued color to much. Most of mine consisted of pencil. Not even art pencils, number 2 pencils! Now is as good as time to learn as any :)

~Giggles~ That's me alright...I would do black and white but led smears so easilly and as it is....I move around alot and my art is always at risk of being mutilated ~~ So I stick to heavy papiers and inks that won't easily run....if we.....I used to do water colors...but after one heavy flood....where I lost alot of my stuff....I gave that up...~~

Re: Art

Posted by hibaakaiko - 2006/09/23 07:51

Uh, no. I draw comics for sale. If you want to read it you will have to buy one like every one else. I only give free comics to the person who puts me up for the weekend, in other words, the person who offers me a place to stay. The comic isn't expensive. Its only ten dollars. So save your money for sunday, and buy a copy. I assure you you'll enjoy it ^^.

For those who DO NOT know (I am not sure if I mentioned this) I will be selling on SUNDAY. Yes, I know, last day of the con, no one really has money left by then...but oh well! Any way! I just thought I would let those few people out there who might buy art from me know that I am now thinking of doing stained glass yaoi art since I am taking a class on it and it seems to be VERY easy. (I might ALSO be selling regular pices of stained glass art work) SO come visit my booth!

Re: Art

Late breaking news! I will be selling one page comics and my full length comic in VERY VERY small numbers due to how expensive INK is for my printer at home. ~DIES~ So first come first serve and if all my good art work runs out, I'll be closing down hella early. So stop by ASAP for anyone who actually wants to buy my work. I promise you, I've got some....interesting stuff....~GRIN~

Not going to set up a boot this year ~~ I've no time to do any simple work to sell...everything I do now are for art shows ~~ God....when did I become such an artest...~Sigh sigh.~ Any ways, I'm going to have a few peices in the art show if i can manage it....(That is if none of them sell here.) I'M IN THE STUDENT SHOW! ~Dances~ And i'm only a measily little freshman! ^^
