
Karaoke?

Calling all yaoicon veterans and SF . . . people who know their way around good.

I'm looking to find a karaoke place that has Japanese songs while I'm down there in SF, and from what I could gather from the Mint, while it sounds really cool and seems to have a good English selection, it doesn't do Japanese. Is this true, or am I missing something and do they really have a Japanese selection?

If not, does anyone know of a place off hand that does?

Also, back to the Mint, is there a minimum age requirement? And is anyone planning on going for karaoke during the con and would be interested in meeting up?
