
Requests for Yaoi-Con Dance?

Posted by Freeptop - 2006/10/09 12:31

Hey folks,

Last year I was the third DJ up (went on around 1am, until around 2am). I had a good time, so I asked to return this year! Hopefully you weren't disappointed last year, because I've been accepted, and will be taking my second year behind the mixing rig at Yaoi-Con this year...

Once again, I'll be spinning Industrial, EBM and Futurepop music that you can dance to. So, in that vein, if you're going to the dance, what would you like to hear? I can't guarantee I'll spin what you request here, but I'll at least try to bring the appropriate CDs with me to make it more likely!

To give you an idea of the kind of music I play, here's the playlist from my set last year:

- # VNV Nation - Joy
- # Pride and Fall - Inside
- # Rotersand - Exterminate, Annihilate, Destroy
- # Covenant - Call the Ships to Port
- # Suicide Commando - Dein Herz, Meine Gier *
- # Skinny Puppy - Pro-Test *
- # The Cruxshadows - Winterborn (This Sacrifice) *
- # Assemblage 23 - Disappoint
- # Bruderschaft - Forever
- # Mindless Faith - Canaan
- # Neuroticfish - They're Coming To Take Me Away

* - denotes a requested song

Let me know what you want to dance to!

Thanks,
- DJ Freeptop

Ooh, that is one sexy playlist - will definately try to stop by this year. I'd love to hear VNV Nation's 'Fearless', but any VNV Nation is good, as is what's in this thread already XD;

The more VNV, the better, in my eyes! :D

In specifics, I'm very fond of the Janus mix of Legion by Apoptygma Berzerk, if you have it handy. ^_^

One fancies a little "Istanbul, Not Constantinople", because it is jolly fun.

Um... just to be vague, can you play anime opening/endings? I'd really like to hear something in japanese after Fanime06. The dance there was horrible because all they played was techno...! There was group of people shouting at the DJ (not that he noticed...) that he sucked. Just try to play a little variety. >< I second Gackt! ^^ Good luck, you have my best wishes! And I had alot of fun last year, it was great.

I have three of his cds then random cds where I've downloaded his music and burned it to listen to on the bus....I'll have to see what I can bring (Trying to bring a lot of things this year, not sure if it will all fit in my bags ~~) But if you have Japanese Cds...bring them we can probably get one of the Djs to play it!

If you're going to go for any Anime openings/endings then I'd highly reccomend using some of DJ Jinnai's mixes if he'll give permission (far as I know, he's cool about that so long as you ask). He's done a lot of phenominal remixes of very popular Anime themes (GITS, RahXephon, Azumanga Daioh)

I raise a vote for Seabound. They've got some awesome remixes of their own music and are generally really fun to dance to while still being "dark". Like Cruxshadows, only less nasally.

In particular, their songs "Poisonous Friend", "Without You", and "Smoke" are very good songs.

80's OO Are you MAD!? THE 70'S ROCK!

As someone who was born in, and lived through, most of the 80s, I'm going to have to agree with this. Somewhere around 1983, music took a nosedive, and kept a downward descent into about the mid 90s. (Maybe it was earlier or later; I've blocked 90s music from my mind.)

Anyway, back on topic, yes, I would also like to add a request for anime ops/eds. It'll bring back college memories, and those were some good ones! ^_^

I'll be honest - I'm not too sure how much, if any, anime music I'll be able to fit in to my set. Especially since I don't have much in my collection to begin with. I'm pretty much exclusively an Industrial/EBM/Futurepop DJ. Still, if people want to hear something specific, bring it to the dance, and either I or one of the other DJs will try to fit it in.

Or, heck, just try requesting it during one of the other DJ's sets. It's not like I'll be the only one spinning at the dance!

Having been born in 1980, I still stand by my decision. \m/

But seriously, some kickass mixes with lyrics that I can half-ass sing along to would be nifty. :D

-Giggles~ I like Gackt because he uses Japanese slang and shortens his words. Its great to sing along with when trying to practice Japanese pronunciation.

Ah! What madness is this!

Funk with EBM?

I don't know if you will catch this, but you were by far the best DJ there, the reason I stayed at the dance.

Please just keep doing exactly what you were doing. I second the call for Combichrist, and would move to include Aspiration Feed by Grendel.

I declare that you rocked the house sir.

Well, thank you very much for the kind words. I happen to think that all the DJs, both this year and last, did excellent jobs, though!

I had a great time this year again. I did notice a lot more requests for bands along the lines of Combichrist, Grendel and Suicide Commando this year, which I admit I hadn't expected - last year, futurepop was the more popular request. If I can make it next year, I'll have to bring a little more growling-type stuff along. I won't leave the Futurepop at home, though - I'll just make sure to widen the variety of what I do bring! Still, I hope when rE\doX and I did our versus set, it met to people's satisfactions!

I should be able to post our playlist soon (just need to confirm one last song from the set with my co-DJ, before I post it).

Okay, for those who haven't realized it yet, I did a versus set with rE\doX of The Ungodly Hour at the dance this year. We were up second in the dance lineup (from about 2:30-3:30am). Here is the list of what we played:

* - indicates a request

Rotersand - Dare to Live

* Neuroticfish - They're Coming To Take Me Away

Funker Vogt - F-117

Icon of Coil - Dead Enough For Life

Solitary Experiments - Still Alive

* Apoptygma Berzerk - Unicorn

Edge of Dawn - Losing Ground

* Combichrist - This S*it Will Fcuk You Up

* Nine Inch Nails - Closer

Faderhead - Naughty H

Brainbug - Nightmare (Sinister Strings Remix)

Parallel Project - Glimpse

* VNV Nation - Kingdom

* Suicide Commando - Hellraiser (VNV Nation remix)

* Rotersand - Exterminate, Annihilate, Destroy
