thanks! I checked out your gallery, nice work!
Doujinshi is very time consuming, but you get faster the more you do...:)

Yay Ayame! I take it this means that you're con-recovered? :D

I didn't really see you after Saturday. I was very pleasantly surprised when the girl came back to the room with that piece that you did of me. That's SO going on the wall so it can scare the 'rents when they visit. :D

"The girl" would like to point out that she paid two dollars which is nearly free or close enough to it. ;)

That would be nice, but half the boys in gay porn only doing it for the pay, since a gay sex scene pays between $1K-$2K, whereas the long line of people willing to do straight means those scenes range from $200-$500. If you can get enough guys willing to do gay porn, then maybe the price paid would come down, making it more about the passion than the money?

(Ah, who'm I kidding? This country's run by money...)

aw, still, I owed you one for looking after my drunk ass sat night...)

"That would be nice, but half the boys in gay porn only doing it for the pay, " heh, yeah...bummer....runs back to my lovely yaoi manga, where the boys are always passionate about each other.....;)

Omg, I totally screwed up the quotes in this post....ehhh....OK, you all can figure it out...:)

Considering both statements are terribly true....I personally am limited to art through my own storylines and Novellas. I normally do not share my work(for many long to steal almost anything to make it their own)but it would be wonderful to work alongside a sketch artist who can turn my Erotica into colorful images.

I suppose faking an orgasm can only take ones imagination so far...but as long as it's depicted well enough...I'm satisfied.

Romance. Chivalry and Passionate eroticism are visuals that happen to be rare to find. Not just in real time...but even some Yaoi storylines and the artwork can lack such important aspects.
