Hey everybody! Ayame here, just wanted to let you all know that I am posting a yaoi holiday web comic on my site, you can find it here:

<http://www.yaoimakestheworldgoround.com/XMASDOUJIN.html>

I have also been working my ass off doing new art for my holiday treat, the 12 days of Bishies, I'll be posting a new piece of art every day until Xmas, starting the 14th..(btw, the drawings get more explicit as the days go on) *grin*

Oh, and I am giving away a nice big gift basket of original yaoi doujinshi and goodies on my site, so please enter the Holiday drawing on the homepage of my site if you are interested...Happy holidays everybody!!!

Now that is a present and a half - thanks so much for this, Ayame. The artwork is truly wonderful and I must admit that I do admire the way you draw wings - I do them differently, but these are lovely. :wink: 8)

I like how you have pieced them together and made them look so good. Good luck with the coming year and I wish you a fun 2007!

Love and hugs, gugie.

It was really nice to read something that looked so good as yours did. ;)

I am going to be doing some manga of my own soon and it should be going up on my site, so i'll show you that soon if you would like? :wink:

thanks again. Yeah, Id love to see your manga, let me know when it's up on your site.

I'm working on a Viewfinder fan doujinshi right now, weird because all of my doujins so far are original, but I couldnt resist ....)
