
Gakuen Heaven

Gakuen Heaven is getting really good too.. although, the anime is almost completely different from the manga. I mean, it follows some of the same storyline, but it has changed a bunch of the character pairings. I guess I kind of like the anime pairings better though.

I could definately pull off a good Keita.. id just need to cut my hair again.. and I don't think I am ready for that.. mebbe if I twirl it on the ends more.. sigh I just look too much like Ishida with redhair..

This show reminds me strongly of the Sims. They have a lot of similarities, not least their strangely addictive power. Good times. . . .

Ok.. you'll hafta explain that more. How can a BL show based off of it's own videogame seem similar to the Sims? Hehe.. mebbe I am just not awake enough.. but I have read that atleast 10x since I first saw it posted and I just can't figure it out. :P

Oh, I didn't know anything about it being its own videogame. The whole time I'm watching, though, I have this urge to click on people and make them do stuff with each other. I don't know why, there's just this Sims vibe to it (and I'm beginning to suspect some of it has to do with the music; serious Sims: Hot Date town-building flashbacks with some of the music). And Keita practically has a floating green diamond above his head. ^^ I don't mean that in a bad way. The whole school would just make a really neat Sims neighborhood if I still had a computer I could run that on . . .

Okay.. that makes more sense I guess. giggle Yeah, its a video game, that they made a manga after, that they designed an anime around. 30 episodes total I believe. Only 1 volume in the manga, I think only 1 game, but yeah.. its a really popular game.. I can't wait to see/get the english translation. ^_^

I really don't like much Gakuen Heaven... is better Strawberry Panic in all, better history, desing character, music, character are more appealing but is yuri.

its too bad the anime only lasted...12 episodes was it? Its not fair that my fav shonen ai are so short...Gravitation...Sukisyo...especially many yaoi since all my favs are mainly OVAs and OAVs... (the longest Ive seen is Kyo Kara Maoh and I only call it shonen ai because of Yuri getting engaged with Wolfram)
