
Northern California? lol No shortage of fans here... ;)

Posted by Irvine - 2006/04/11 01:04

Someone else can make a southern California thread if they want, but I guess this can be the one for people who actually live in the Yaoi-Con homeland. XD It's always nice for us to unite, and get to know the Yaoi fans in our area that we don't know already. ^^ Feel free to introduce yourself, and mention your location in northern California if you want.

So... my name is Chris. I've been to Yaoi-Con every year except the first one. I was Sephiroth (from Final Fantasy VII: Advent Children) at the Bishounen Auction last year, though the gorgeous handmade Venetian mask I was wearing managed to hide my identity even from people who know me... as the costume was brand new to most people.

I live in Santa Clara, about a 50 minute drive south of San Francisco... and probably a 30-35 minute drive from Yaoi-Con. I've lived all over the San Francisco Bay Area, so I know this region quite well. ^^ I plan to be at Yaoi-Con all three days this year, though that means taking a day off work. It sure will be worth it, though... as it always has been. <3

I wuv Yaoi-Con. ^ _____ ^

Yay for Northern Californians. I'll actually be moving out of state before con, myself, but that'll definitely not prevent any Y-con goodness :3

Wahah! Somebody loved my panties! <3

I'm still looking for a way to one-up those for 2006 (Re-acceptance into the bishie fold permitting...) but it's darn hard to beat Hello Kitty and pink ruffles, alternately.

Yo! I live in Alameda, the small island in the middle of the SF bay (right off Oakland for those who don't know). I've been to Yaoi-con since 2004 and this con is just really awesome. I'm always looking forward to this con because it's so cool.

Hey Chris, I didn't know you lived in NorCal. I live in Stockton (bleh) with my roommate Tam, but we're always going down to SF for a little fun, visiting friends, etc. Just curious, but are you going to the Sakura Blossom Festival in SF this month?

Hell yeah~!

I'll be there on Saturday. I work on Sunday, unfortunately... but I'm still considering an attempt to catch people that evening by coming up right after my shift ends at noon. I'm not sure how well that will work out, though. ._. I hope to see you there... grab me if you see me~!

Definitely will do. I'll probably be hanging with Oni, so we all should be easy to spot. :3

Aw, that sucks. I can't go to the festival this weekend, and I would have loved to see Irvine last weekend.

We still talk about you, Irvine. "Ah, I can't wait to see Irvine!" says Seifer. "Yeah, me too!" says Squall. :P

Anywho, Northern Californian myself... Mendocino County! This year will be my second Yaoi Con.

Hmm.. Yeah, I guess my sudden appearance needs some explanation. I've been so busy with my anime site, fansubbing group and scanlation group.. well.. I'm a busy kitty.

I live in Daly City, about 12mins from where the Con is.. I've filled up one room in my house with an out-of-town guest for Ycon.. I don't know if she'll show up in the forums tho.. heh. This is the first year I remembered in time.. :shock: I guess that makes me virginal to the con, but not to yaoi-land.

I'd be glad to stalk you Chris, however, I don't think I would make a good stalker. I'd forget to follow you, forget to call, forget to leave gifts at your door before you got home.. gomennasai. I do make a very pleasing friend though.. or so I've been told. Most people know me for having an overly sexual imagination.. especially when it comes to Yaoi of all kinds.

The best thing to know about me.. I am a bi-sexual man trapped in a womans body. They forgot to attach my penis when I was born.

Next stop.... I must go abuse some poor unsuspecting soul in my irc channel.. god those kids can be so much fun to embarass.

I'm game.. if enough people want to do it, we should do a milage check and meet in the middle.. mind you, I love to drive, so I can drive all over hell and tarnation to pick people up to arrive at any point on the map.. just so long as it isn't more then an hour from my house. (1.5hrs for you slow drivers out there. :P)

Hm...I feel like I just walked into a cocktail party where everyone seems to know everyone else.

Well, Howdy from Mountain View (if anyone besides Chris knows where that is). Figured I would just stick my head out for a moment before going on a bit o' a bike ride and shout out from the ever exciting Mt. View. lol peaking over at my Tv to see what's happening on Fruit Baskets Hm...gotta go but hope to meet ya all later.

Peace

If we live here in the bay area, we must know mountain view.. I mean.. the amp. theatre is there.. and really good shopping, and google headquarters.. :P I actually used to live there when I was a kid.. for the life of me I can't remember my address, but there was this park that I would go to, and watch all these ppl playing Xfrisbee and i ended up becoming friends with them and I got so bombed one night that I couldn't stop laughing.. I think it was that night that they figured out I wasn't really 18 like I said i was. :P

Wicked....I like that in a person hehe. Course now I feel a bit foolish because I forgot about Shoreline (where I almost wept watching Radiohead). Hm, now I'm wondering what park that might have been.

This will be my third Ycon in a row, and I hope to see everyone.

I live with my girlfriend and just in case anyone here knows her she's Genki Ichigo. I was the not so social thing glued to her at the past two cons. g

You mean which type of art? Art you draw or art you buy? Kinokuniya in Japantown has both drawing supplies as well as a wide variety of Mangas/Artbooks in both english and japanese. Is that what you're looking for?

Hm, what to say about me? I'm a 24 year old girlie; you can call me Squeaker, all my friends do. (It's my voice... all high-like! I got the nick in jr high and it's stuck ever since!)

And... it'll be my first time at Yaoi-con! I'm so very excited, can you tell? :mrgreen:

Can't wait to do DDR at YCon, though. ^^ I wish I had L's concentration so that I could do heavy/expert mode. LOL.
