
Published author seeks artist

Hi everyone,

I'm a published author of three sf novels, and relatively new to yaoi. I started reading slash a few years ago, then picked up a copy of Legal Drug about a year and a half ago and haven't looked back. :D

I decided to try my hand at writing a manga script and it has been some of the most fun I've had as a writer. I have three manga series I'm marketing, and I'm actively seeking artists to collaborate with.

In particular, I have a historical boys love romance about a pickpocket and a dispossessed nobleman in mid-1700s London, called THE NIMBLETONS, which Iris Print would like to pick up for their new magazine, BL Twist. I'M SO EXCITED! So now I'm looking for an artist to collaborate with on this project. It's a great opportunity for a talented artist who is looking to make a name for her/himself in the field of OEL/BL and yaoi.

I'd love to hear from any artists out there who are interested in a collaboration. Please Email me at anneharris2002@yahoo.com for specific info on THE NIMBLETONS or any of my other projects. And you can find out more about me at my blog: <http://anneharris.typepad.com>.

Best,

Anne Harris
