I remember there being a post about the Fanmarket being sold out of tables, or something. . . the fanmarket's not the same as the Swapmeet, right?

Oh, that's good. :D

The swap meet happens Friday evening before (I think?) Opening Ceremonies where you stand in line to get a table and sell all your old manga/doujinshi/anime stuff that you don't use anymore and make a good few bucks to spend on the Bishie Bingo. .hehe. . or whatever you like. Anyway, there should be information on it on the main page.

Oh I see. Thanks a lot!

I do have tons of old manga and some doujinshi I wanna get rid of, but they're either in Japanese or Chinese...do people really want to buy them? And not all of them are yaoi either...I wonder if there's a way to find out what people are interested in before hauling all that stuff to the con...

You can find more info on Swap Meet here:

<http://www.yaoicon.com/programming.html>

Scroll down to the bottom of the page.

Swap Meet IS a first-come/first-served concept. The best plan is to get in line early to get a table, otherwise you may not be able to.

Re: Fan Market: Yes, it is sold out and at the time of this post, there were about 13 vendors on the waiting list.
