
Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Gothkitti - 2007/08/11 18:26

Now's the time, kids! All of you who've been posting all of those "do I look good enough?" threads, all of you who just want to get up there on stage and strut your stuff, all of you who just wanna see what being a bishie is like, and... well... pretty much anybody who's interested in being a bishie for whatever reason!

Starting now, preparations for general Yaoi-con bishounen (that is, excluding auction) are beginning! If you'd like to try your hand, and maybe your shirt, and quite possibly your pants (or skirt) at a friendly game of Bingo then being a bishie is quite possibly the temporary occupation for you!

Preliminary selections are for Bishie Bingo but the odds are that other events will open up for you to participate in if you show a knack for really strutting your stuff for Y-con. If you are enough bishie (or spend enough time as one) then you may even gain volunteer hours towards payment for your next Y-con!

The site you wanna go to if this seems like the job for you is as follows:

<http://yconbishounen.com/>

Catchy, no?

Bishies of Yaoicons past: Please register for this site as well. I will contact all of you who I can but it is important that you join these forums as well.

As you register for that forum, please feel free to contact me via PM and say hello, stating what your name is. I will be querying prospective bishies as they register and getting a feel for each one of you, building profiles and getting a good idea of the type of performance, be it for Bingo, Auction, or one of our new events such as Cafe, so that you might be placed seamlessly and thereby prepared for the con!

It's important, if you have an interest in this, to register soon! Fanime's coming up quickly and it is a good opportunity to show the Yaoi-con staffers, fans, and other bishies what you've got!

If you are already registered, there's no need to worry about your status. I will be doing some housecleaning on the bishie forums but that will be limited to closing old threads and starting some things anew so that things don't get too cluttered.

Seeya on stage!

Goth Kittii.

Y-con bishie and bishie herder... to the MAX!

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Neko_Bazu - 2007/08/12 02:05

Another website to keep track of?! :o :wink:

Well, off I go~! signs up

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Xgouki - 2007/08/12 02:56

mmm...didn't know there was a site just for the bishies :? . Now I'm all signed up and just awaiting approval :D

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Elysium - 2007/08/12 05:23

Well I registered for ya!

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Elysium - 2007/08/12 05:28

Well I registered for ya!

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Gothkitti - 2007/08/12 06:53

Sorry for adding another website but there's stuff which is best discussed privately amongst bishies. :]

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Hpm - 2007/08/13 13:32

This seems interesting, though it could be nice to know exactly what there is to do as a "bishie" there, except giving your all and providing your "guest" with a great time ;)

Well anyhow, I registered under the same name as this and now post (as requested ;p) hope to spend a nice time with the rest of ya bishies ;)

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Gothkitti - 2007/08/13 13:33

There was a minor snafu, Hpm. Can you re-register? :]

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Neko_Bazu - 2007/08/13 14:17

This seems interesting, though it could be nice to know exactly what there is to do as a "bishie" there, except giving your all and providing your "guest" with a great time ;)

The bishies are what make YCon different to so many other cons - by becoming a Bishounen, you will help define the con. You will be one of the focal points; you will simultaneously be worshipped by hundreds and be the bitch of a thousand; you will command their attention and desires, and at the same time be the joint property of everyone there. You're always on show, and always on demand for shows.

In short; aside from the auction, there's bingo, opening ceremonies, closing ceremonies, pictionary and various other jobs throughout the con.

Now doesn't that sound worth the effort? :D

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by polack - 2007/09/11 14:56

Its been a week since I dropped my application and I haven't heard anything yet. Is that a bad sign? ;_;

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Gothkitti - 2007/09/11 22:22

Its been a week since I dropped my application and I haven't heard anything yet. Is that a bad sign?;_;

Did you drop an application for Auction or onto the bishie forum mentioned in this thread? I haven't seen a registration by you on the forum, yet...

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by polack - 2007/09/12 11:53

Its been a week since I dropped my application and I haven't heard anything yet. Is that a bad sign?;_;

Did you drop an application for Auction or onto the bishie forum mentioned in this thread? I haven't seen a registration by you on the forum, yet...

An Application for the auction. I didn't want to join the bishie forum until I was an official bishie. I really hope I get to perform, I've been working on my act for a wile now. I just hope I here something soon so I can rework my travel arrangements but I still haven't heard from Isis yet. ;_;

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Neko_Bazu - 2007/09/12 18:37

Its been a week since I dropped my application and I haven't heard anything yet. Is that a bad sign?;_;

Did you drop an application for Auction or onto the bishie forum mentioned in this thread? I haven't seen a registration by you on the forum, yet...

An Application for the auction. I didn't want to join the bishie forum until I was an official bishie. I really hope I get to perform, I've been working on my act for a wile now. I just hope I here something soon so I can rework my travel arrangements but I still haven't heard from Isis yet. ;_;

Well, the bishie forum is for prospective bishies - nobody's been confirmed yet. By my experience, the final list for each event is confirmed about three weeks before the con - so head along to the forum and boost your chances! :D

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Gothkitti - 2007/09/13 07:52

Additionally to Bazu's statement, there are also several other fun events for bishies (for the auction and not for the auction alike), many of which will be closing their enrollment before Auction picks are out so I'd highly suggest, on top of Bazu's own urging, that you join that forum ASAP.

I'd like you to PM me if possible as well. I may be able to help you out with more bishie related information. There's no onus or anything. I just like helping the new bishies out. :]

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by polack - 2007/09/13 13:39

Additionally to Bazu's statement, there are also several other fun events for bishies (for the auction and not for the auction alike), many of which will be closing their enrollment before Auction picks are out so I'd highly suggest, on top of Bazu's own urging, that you join that forum ASAP.

I'd like you to PM me if possible as well. I may be able to help you out with more bishie related information. There's no onus or anything. I just like helping the new bishies out. :]

Ok I registered. However I am really busy at work to have any kind of a social life so I dont get around to PM a lot but I can do e-mail and actually you still are on my Myspace friends list. I'm Rpolack if you dont remember.

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Gothkitti - 2007/09/13 13:56

Totally understandable. I sent you a short PM (on the bishounen forum) of what the necessary steps are, for now. Just try to do them ASAP. :D

... and I knew I recognized you! I'm totally awful with faces/names/everything. >_>

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Earthbounder - 2007/10/13 23:13

Ello,

I know I dropped you a message just a few minutes ago Gothkitti, but I figured I'd post here anyways just for verification purposes. I went ahead and registered on the YconBishounen forums and am awaiting approval.

=====

I hate to sound stupid....

Posted by dragonwing84 - 2007/10/14 03:50

But what is a bishie?

=====

Re: I hate to sound stupid....

Posted by Gothkitti - 2007/10/14 08:12

But what is a bishie?

What is a bishie indeed....

I think that "pretty boy" pretty much covers the spectrum, to be honest. Our bishies at Yaoi-con are tailored for you fans to cover an extremely wide range. We even have a few biseinen (pretty man, more or less)!

=====

Re: I hate to sound stupid....

Posted by dragonwing84 - 2007/10/14 08:43

But what is a bishie?

What is a bishie indeed....

I think that "pretty boy" pretty much covers the spectrum, to be honest. Our bishies at Yaoi-con are tailored for you fans to cover an extremely wide range. We even have a few biseinen (pretty man, more or less)!

Well I need not apply then....cause I don't fit the bill...

=====

Re: I hate to sound stupid....

Posted by Hpm - 2007/10/14 09:53

But what is a bishie?

What is a bishie indeed....

I think that "pretty boy" pretty much covers the spectrum, to be honest. Our bishies at Yaoi-con are tailored for you fans to cover an extremely wide range. We even have a few biseinen (pretty man, more or less)!

Well I need not apply then....cause I don't fit the bill...

hehe gonna have to say that it's usually not yourself that's the judge of that ;)

=====

Re: I hate to sound stupid....

Posted by Gothkitti - 2007/10/14 17:02

But what is a bishie?

What is a bishie indeed....

I think that "pretty boy" pretty much covers the spectrum, to be honest. Our bishies at Yaoi-con are tailored for you fans to cover an extremely wide range. We even have a few biseinen (pretty man, more or less)!

Well I need not apply then....cause I don't fit the bill...

hehe gonna have to say that it's usually not yourself that's the judge of that ;)

Indeed. There are many types of beauty, as well. If you've attended Y-con before then you know that I am -not- a traditional male beauty, case and point. :]

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by dragonwing84 - 2007/10/15 01:36

well then you tell me...

www.myspace.com/dragonwing84

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Gothkitti - 2007/10/15 07:46

It truly depends on what shape you are under that trench, but you do have a nice face (and good taste in music!) :]

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by DirtyD - 2007/10/15 14:52

If you put on a shaggy wig and do that several days unshaven look you'd fit the part of a rugged bishie and I totally dig that!

...Sorry fangirl moment...

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by dragonwing84 - 2007/10/15 22:44

It truly depends on what shape you are under that trench, but you do have a nice face (and good taste in music!) :]

Unfortunately, I have a tummy....the trench hides it though.....thus why i like my trench....and most baggy clothes.....yea tripp pants!!!

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by dragonwing84 - 2007/10/30 21:08

I am hoping to lose weight over the next year....and I certainly wouldn't mind trying....

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by arcsterminus - 2007/10/30 22:54

Should have found these forums a couple months ago xD Oh well. I applied for that bishie site, I'm going to keep looking into everything I need to know and hopefully get on board for yaoicon next year, or better yet Fanime in may. Btw this is the fluffy haired badge checker the volenteer coordinator pointed out =p

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by dragonwing84 - 2007/11/03 23:07

I was asked a lot by people last weekend if I was a bishie...but from what it sounds like you are looking for smexy skinny model types....and that I definately do not fit....It would take me a lot to get there....like loosing hella weight....

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Neko_Bazu - 2007/11/04 08:47

I was asked a lot by people last weekend if I was a bishie...but from what it sounds like you are looking for smexy skinny model types....and that I definately do not fit....It would take me a lot to get there....like loosing hella weight.... That helps, but is not the be-all end-all in and of itself. Ultimately, our job is to entertain the other con-goers, so if you're up to that job, then it's a large part of the requirement fulfilled. Yes, obviously it's desired that the boys are attractive, but the thing to remember is that tastes vary - I know several girls who prefer "bigger boys," so I wouldn't consider that an absolute obstruction to it. As you admit yourself, lots of people wondered if you were a bishie, so you obviously fit the bill to a degree!

I say go for it if you're interested, and see what comes of it. Nothing to lose, right? :)

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by dragonwing84 - 2007/11/04 13:37

I was asked a lot by people last weekend if I was a bishie...but from what it sounds like you are looking for smexy skinny model types....and that I definately do not fit....It would take me a lot to get there....like loosing hella weight.... That helps, but is not the be-all end-all in and of itself. Ultimately, our job is to entertain the other con-goers, so if you're up to that job, then it's a large part of the requirement fulfilled. Yes, obviously it's desired that the boys are attractive, but the thing to remember is that tastes vary - I know several girls who prefer "bigger boys," so I wouldn't consider that an absolute obstruction to it. As you admit yourself, lots of people wondered if you were a bishie, so you obviously fit the bill to a degree!

I say go for it if you're interested, and see what comes of it. Nothing to lose, right? :)

Technically I am already trying...but I am still going to try and lose some of the extra poundage....any suggestions?

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Neko_Bazu - 2007/11/04 16:47

I was asked a lot by people last weekend if I was a bishie...but from what it sounds like you are looking for smexy skinny model types....and that I definately do not fit....It would take me a lot to get there....like loosing hella weight.... That helps, but is not the be-all end-all in and of itself. Ultimately, our job is to entertain the other con-goers, so if you're up to that job, then it's a large part of the requirement fulfilled. Yes, obviously it's desired that the boys are attractive, but the thing to remember is that tastes vary - I know several girls who prefer "bigger boys," so I wouldn't consider that an absolute obstruction to it. As you admit yourself, lots of people wondered if you were a bishie, so you obviously fit the bill to a degree!

I say go for it if you're interested, and see what comes of it. Nothing to lose, right? :)

Technically I am already trying...but I am still going to try and lose some of the extra poundage....any suggestions? Intelligent eating and plenty of exercise! I know it's obvious, but it's what I do, and I'm as trim as one gets comfortably~ (Though I'm definitely looking to tone up more for next year) I don't have any particular diet; I just watch for saturated fats and make sure I eat 'til I'm full at meal times so I don't snack in between. Take up regular activity too just to nip the edge off the calories (I walk to and from work and between my friends' houses and walk my dog, for instance) and maybe give yourself a daily press-ups and sit-ups routine (or similar - ride a bike maybe), and you should get results.

I'm not an expert in that area by any stretch, but it works for me - and lord knows anyone on here who knows me will vouch that I eat plenty!

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Gothkitti - 2007/11/04 16:50

I was asked a lot by people last weekend if I was a bishie...but from what it sounds like you are looking for smexy skinny model types....and that I definately do not fit....It would take me a lot to get there....like loosing hella weight.... That helps, but is not the be-all end-all in and of itself. Ultimately, our job is to entertain the other con-goers, so if you're up to that job, then it's a large part of the requirement fulfilled. Yes, obviously it's desired that the boys are attractive, but the thing to remember is that tastes vary - I know several girls who prefer "bigger boys," so I wouldn't consider that an absolute obstruction to it. As you admit yourself, lots of people wondered if you were a bishie, so you obviously fit the bill to a degree!

I say go for it if you're interested, and see what comes of it. Nothing to lose, right? :)

Technically I am already trying...but I am still going to try and lose some of the extra poundage....any suggestions?

For now, as it's immediately post con, you keep working on your image and be patient. I haven't accepted any of the immediate post-con newbies onto the site yet specifically because I'll be starting some of the major parts of the forum anew in a month or so.

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by dragonwing84 - 2007/11/05 02:17

Technically I am already trying...but I am still going to try and lose some of the extra poundage....any suggestions?

For now, as it's immediately post con, you keep working on your image and be patient. I haven't accepted any of the immediate post-con newbies onto the site yet specifically because I'll be starting some of the major parts of the forum anew in a month or so.

Hate to tell you this goth-kitty...but you already accepted me into the tier one forum....and I have posted....is that bad?

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Gothkitti - 2007/11/05 08:14

You're just fine. Tier 1 is just the surface area of the site. I accepted your registration but haven't accepted you (or any of the other new applicants) onto the main body of events quite yet.

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by dragonwing84 - 2007/11/05 08:57

You're just fine. Tier 1 is just the surface area of the site. I accepted your registration but haven't accepted you (or any of the other new applicants) onto the main body of events quite yet.

so it isn't teir 1 you are resetting in other words? good....I don't wanna hafta repost....LOL

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Gothkitti - 2007/11/05 09:37

Yah. You're fine. :]

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by dragonwing84 - 2007/11/05 16:44

Yah. You're fine. :]

HOORAY!!!!

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by arcsterminus - 2007/11/05 22:52

Not accepting till you update in a month or so? So are you just going to go back and approve people after that or should we reregister after the updates?

=====

Re: Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Gothkitti - 2007/11/06 07:45

You won't need to re-register. Your registrations have all been accepted. I just haven't moved you into the higher tier stuffs yet.

=====

Re:Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Gothkitti - 2008/02/17 06:56

Greetings, all! This is a minor bump for this thread so that I might catch all of you who are interested in being new bishies (and say hello to the "old" bishies) for 2008! Con starts early this year so it's time to start planning... and stuff! I've made minor changes to the first post in this thread so please, feel free to pop over to the bishie forums and say hello!

-Kitti.

=====

Re:Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Neko_Bazu - 2008/02/19 05:04

Hello from an 'old' bishie! :D (Though at 22 years old, I feel odd calling myself that!)

=====

Re:Do you have what it takes to be a bishie?

Posted by Xgouki - 2008/03/22 02:07

Man, Bazu. Now you make me feel old :(.

But hello returning and newcomers from a 'returning' bishie :laugh:

=====