No way to copy the ID

Hi! I am going to be buying my friends con badge at Fanime but the problem is she does not have a scanner and is not sure if she can make a copy of it and get it to me on time (I am going to be out of the country for a while before fanime)

I was wondering if she took a picture of it and i printer it out would that be ok? it would not be altered other then being enlarged from the photograph. I was wondering if this was ok or if we would have to find another way to get a copy.

Thanks in advance!

No to the photo of your friend's ID. You can still pay for her registration by having her mail you a copy of her ID and forwarding the Submission Confirmation email to you. You write the check and mail it with the photocopy of the ID and a print out of the Submission Confirmation email. Voilà! She's registered and you paid.

Heehee.

There's actually a Kinko's no more than... 3-4 blocks from Fanime where you could get all of that ready, if you're local to San Jose, just to give an idea.
