Need Roommates

Hello everyone! This year will be my first Yaoi-Con, not my first convention, been attending conventions since 2002.

I have an Executive Suite from Thursday 3PM until Monday at 12PM.

So far I have four, five with myself, confirmed in my hotel room. Myself, Bredward, Mara, Kitsune and Miaka-Chan. So, we have one spot open in the room.

It's $139 a night and roughly $616 for all four nights, with taxes.

Four people paying = $155 per person

Five people paying = $124 per person

Six people paying = $103 per person

I am not sure how many people can be in the Executive Suite. But, looking at the hotel restrictions, I believe we can have six people in the Executive Suite. If this isn't right, please inform me.

Hello. If you still have some spots available I would like to share a room. I am 20/f (will be 21 when con starts) and I just noticed we are both from seattle. ^_^. I just got back from Sakura-Con and I met a Lady working at a booth who was signing up people for yaoi-con and she told my about yaoi-con having a forum where you can find a room mate, hence here I am. So, if you have more spots available please let me know and any details if there are any yet.

thanks. ^_^

I just noticed the date for yaoi-con was in sept (for some reason i thought oct) and so now i need a room mate because I will still be 20 when con is (since you have to be 21 to rent a hotel room).

Alright... I just got confirmation from some people...

There are now four confirmed people in my hotel room. Which means I have two spots left. Are you still interested?

Please contact me on one of my messengers if you'd like to talk more.

My friend Carina and I are hoping to come to yaoi-con this year. We were hoping to find some people to share a hotel with, as its too expensive to get a hotel on our own. I am male (just a heads-up as that is a concern for some). We are both 22 year old students. We have attended cons before, from Anime Expo to Sakura Con, but are new to yaoi-con.

Hello. To my deepest regret I cannot attend yaoi con this year. I was on the wait list for the phlebotomy program at my college I attend and I just got a email today saying I got in. So, Now i have to use the money for my tuition. I'm very sorry that its such short notice of my cancellation. I hope you can find another room mate.
