I'd also like to be a room mate if that's possible ^_^ I'm so happy my idol Youka Nitta will be there, now i have to convince my much loved American writer Yayoi Neko to join this year! I'm so excited I'm gonna save up every penny I can for this! I live in FL, if anyone is driving from that way I'd love to join, anyways My e-mail is Drakanflame1@aol.com, we can talk about stuff on email if you want! Hopefully I can get a friend of mine to come with, but she doesn't like yaoi to level that I am obsessed and crazy over it! ^_^

No she couldn't spend money :( but there still a long time before the con. How many more are we willing to have? a max of 4? How many can stay under hotel rules? Also does anyone know around what food costs might be? Is there food at the hotel or around the hotel i.e. walking distance? Just some things I was thinking about. If the room has a fridge I can maybe bring some food or at least have meals available. Thanks!

Last year there was 6 of us in a room, as well as decently priced food provided by the hotel for us ($5 for a burger and soda) In addition we are near a Trader Joe's, Random restuarants and a 7-11. so far there are 3 of us, and I'm fine with a few more. Who knows, maybe we will have more folks so the cost of the room goes down.

I hope! LOL! What is Yaoi-con like? Is it more like Dragon-con or is it a smaller convention? I'm really excited because it's the first time I'll be around true yaoi fans and not just my boyfriend and some Shonen-ai lovers. I'm hoping to get a lot of merchandise that is Yaoi, i.e. Shirts figures, doujinshi, pins, I'd love some IrukaXKakashi posters! I'm really just looking for things I can't buy online or at stores. Does the convection offer things like that? I also want to see any discussions from the publishers of yaoi, DMP, Blu, and DQ. Will they be there? Also when will a program be available.

Thanks!

slow down cowgirl :) it is a med. sized convention, depending on which ones you go to. there is a lot of swag, some tees (though not so much from the con itself--however that may change) The con tried to sell some shirts the first few years but they didnt sell as well (timing issues) Doujinshi aplenty, last year there was a mad amount of Nauruto stuff. You want to go to both the cosplay and the bishie auction (auction line first-trust me ;). the program will come two or so months before the con, give or take. Japan town (in San Fran-- a good reason to come a day or to before/after the actual con) and the market are good places to get new stuff (many in japanese) and there most likely will be forums with various publishers. If you cant wait, some of the links and banners on this sight can get you started. Just a tip, keep a list of the books you have and the books you buy so you dont get doubles (this has happened to me twice)
