Soul Eater

Any people planning to cosplay as someone from Soul Eater?

The show doesn't seem to be very popular right now but I for one love it, and I'll go as someone from it most likely one day or other at the con.

Photoshoot is gonna be out of the question for my sake most likely but it would still be nice to know if others have any plans for the con.

It would be nice to know if any others are watching the show now and planning something and/or maybe gonna do something from it.

I've been watching the show, it's brilliant! :D

Unfortunately, I've already got two cosplays to make between now and YCon, so I probably won't be able to do a cosplay for this too :(

I've only seen one episode of it and I thought it was hilarious. I'd love to cosplay the Death the Kid character someday. Unfortunately this year is tied up with other cosplays so maybe next year. If I recognize you, I'll say hi! (might be hard depending on your character and I've only seen the one episode). :P

I plan on going as Soul this year so if there are any other Soul Eater cosplayers out there I'd be all for a photo shoot.

I'll be going as Chrona~!
Also, my friend will be Death the Kid.
Hopefully we'll run into you guys sometime. :)

Oh yeah, good to know there are other people cosplaying from this show. If I make the scythe I might be able to con my girl into going as Maka so I'd be up for snagging some photos with you guys. What day are you thinking of going as those characters?

I'll be going with a group of mostly adult characters: Justin, Azusa, Giriko, Spirit, and myself as Marie. We might have one or two more but I'm not sure =/

If anyone wants to catch us for pics together we'll most likely be out and about Friday around noon give or take, and other random times throughout the weekend ^.^

That is fricking win that you guys are going to have a group of the Deathscythes and their Meisters. I was worried there might be a small army of Souls but so far looks like I'm the only taker. Friday sounds good to me, I'll make it a priority to keep an eye out for you guys that day.

oh yeah masquerade is for sure =3 We were too busy this year to enter though ;_; For my group I think their main stuff is just SE so they're pretty flexible. Personally, I have a Trinity Blood group to meet up with sat. morning and Bleach at 3pm DX
