
Can't make it to Y-con. Buy my registration?

Posted by omgpocky - 2008/06/23 10:18

I purchased the early bird rate membership. Is anyone willing to buy it off me? Contact me on AIM at xemnasxaix to talk.

Thanks. :3

Sorry to put the damper on you, but you can't do that. Highly illegal that is, and if I were you, I'd delete this post before admin finds it cause they can punish you for trying this.

Afraid you're way wide of the mark there, Hiba. Copying and pasting from the registration FAQ:

Q: I registered, but I can't come to the convention after all. Can I get a refund?

A: BISEINEN-YA cannot refund your membership fee. You can transfer your membership if you follow these steps:

- * Find someone 18+ willing to buy your membership from you.
- * Give that person the receipt from your registration confirmation packet.
- * Email to let her know who you are transferring your registration to. Please include the person's Full Name, Badge Name, and Email Address.
- * That person must then submit an online form to the database, mail in a print out of their registration email, photocopy of their proof of age, and your receipt (in lieu of payment) to the registration address POSTMARKED no later than August 22, 2008. Registration staff will contact you both via email to verify the transfer before canceling your registration and processing the new membership. No transfers will be processed after August 22, 2008.

So as you were, omgpocky! ^_^

Edit: No idea why that C+P is there twice, it only appears once when I go to edit the message... o_O

You may want to try asking at the Yaoi-Con chat Yahoo Group or LiveJournal community.

http://community.livejournal.com/yaoicon_chat/ and http://groups.yahoo.com/group/yaoicon_chat/

You might want to put a post up on the yaoicon_chat comm on LJ and point out that you did indeed pay the early bird rate which is ten dollars cheaper than the rate right now and twenty at the door if I recall correctly. :)

I swear to god that Titania's post wasn't there when I posted mine. >.>
