
Tentative Con Schedule

Posted by yaoibabyangel - 2008/07/04 21:32

I was wondering if anyone would be able to give me a tentative schedule for this year's con, as this is our first con and we are trying to put together an itinerary outline for our parents and ourselves, as I hate not having a well thought out plan and I panic when there is not a set schedule. :blush: Also there are some things I want to check out and make sure we have time to do so that we can squeeze in as much of the con we can without getting overwhelmed or tired and cranky :angry:. So if any one can help out that would be great! :kiss:

Unfortunately, you're very unlikely to be able to get that, as the schedule usually isn't released until about a week before the con.

If it helps any, the 'main events' like the Bishie Cafe, Bishie Auction, masquerade, closing ceremonies etc don't usually start 'til about 6pm onwards, and mostly take part on the Friday and Saturday nights. Most of the rest of the time will be taken up by various panel events, but they won't be finalised for a while yet.

The swap meet occurs before six...before the opening ceremony. Since we're in the same hotel this year, it's probably going to be in the court yard again...

We usually have the schedule up a week or two at most before the con. While this is always subject to change until that schedule is posted, our standard events are usually around these times:

Swap Meet - mid-late Friday afternoon
Opening Ceremonies - Friday evening
Bishie Bingo -- follows Opening Ceremonies
AMV Contest -- mid-Saturday afternoon
Cosplay Contest -- follows AMV
Bishie Auction-- follows Cosplay
Dance -- follows auction
Raffle Inferno -- mid-Sunday afternoon
Closing Ceremonies -- follows Raffle

This information, although brief, is very helpful, thanks!!

I have honestly given up trying to set up a schedule in advance.

I normally set one up and then attend like three things on the list (always bingo though). The rest of the time I get distracted by other things (freestyle twister and pika-ball).

Gryffindor's are made with more balls of steel than anyone else.

And what is never on the list, for those of you getting in early, Whoreopoly followed by Apples to Apples, Yaoi addition (HOPEFULLY, if My printer doesn't give out on me over the next four weeks)...at Hiba Akaiko's anual party.

Thanks! This is most helpful. Fight plans have changed and I need to make sure I have enough time to have fun and take care of myself at the same time. ^_^
