I'd love having some people to play Scarlet Weather Rhapsody with, but that's PC, and I don't think a fighting game with a solely loli roster would go over well at Ycon. lol

Having Melty Blood PS2 would be awesome though. ~nod nod~

Crap, I'd better practice now that I said that so I don't get my ass handed to me like last year. >_>'

I think rockband would be great just because you can have so many players and turns last about 5 minutes. However, the guitar and the drums can be kind of bulky to transport. But yeah, it's a great party game.

I can bring the disc for RB1, if there's any interest ^.^; but I can't bring an Xbox or any of the peripherals with me since I don't think I could fit them in my luggage without a second bag (and I lack the extra $50 or whatever to pay that). Then again, this may guarantee that I'll be in the game room for the whole con, considering my love of singing like an idiot in public.

Tofu: OMG Makes me want to do hairband version cosplay! And I'd better practice the drums!!

Asuka: Rockband is on PS2, PS3, Xbox, and Wii, but I liked it best on the Xbox. Since you live in San Francisco, it'd be really great if you could bring the set. I'll definitely hang out in the game room for a while waiting for turns :D! Thanks so much for offering, hope to see you there!

well i will be bringing the PS3 version of Rockband. but also seeing if i can barrow my friends rockband 2 and use the set for rockband 3. to bad there is not a rockband 2 out for PS3 yet.

P.S. I am the same person that hosted the Rockband Open Mic at fanime. we got over 200 groups that want to play in it. we will do it again this year but be using Rockband 2.
