
Super Shuttle

Posted by Neko_Bazu - 2008/08/26 11:07

This thread was inevitable, hey?

As posted in the LJ forums, the hotel will be running a shuttle between certain hours on the various days of the convention. Unfortunately, for some of us, those hours aren't convenient - if that's the case, apparently a Super Shuttle can be booked instead.

As fate would have it, my group's flights (both in and out) fall well out of the hotel shuttle times, so I was wondering if anyone wanted to share one for either/both trips? We land at SFO airport at around 9:30pm on the Thursday, and our flight out is at 8:45am Monday (the inhumanity! x_x;). There's four of us, thus room for up to four more people on each trip. The shuttle prices are as follows:

$20 for the first person, $9 per additional person. A full van, 8 people, is $75. To get the lower rate, you MUST tell the driver that you are a group before you board. If two people reserve separately, they'll each be paying $20, rather than a total of $29.

Obviously, the more people there are, the cheaper it works out - so if you're interested, please let us know! ^_^

(Also, if you'd be willing to book it, that'd be utterly fantastic and love-ful too - being UK-based, I have inconvenient calling hours and much expense in the process, not to mention so many telephone operators having trouble understanding me!)

Hey if you can wait a little for me. My flight gets in around 10pm ish id like to share the ride with you. Flying in on Air Canada from Toronto Pearson airport.

Let me know if thats okay. unfortnatly my flight leaving is at 6:45 am(yikes) so i cant share the return trip on the way out.

Oh, that flight out sucks even worse than ours >.o

I wouldn't mind waiting around, though; I'll put it to the rest of my mob and see what they think, but it shouldn't be an issue ^_^ It saves us all a few dollars each, and that's the important part, right? ;) (Oh, and the pre-con socialising, of course!)

Would you have any problem with making the booking, once a group is set?

I have to be to SFO at 6:30 Monday morning, if y'all wanna go in on the Super Shuttle back to the airport. I can call them and make certain it will be available that early if you like.

Re:Super Shuttle

Just to make absolutely sure, that's arriving at the airport at 6:30am, as opposed to your flight leaving at 6:30am? 'cause if so, that sounds ideal (we'll be going international, so we'll have to check in about 2hrs in advance). Again, I'll have to double-check with my mob, but I see no reason they could refuse that ^_^

Yeah, my flight is out at 7:30 am so I need to be there at the latest by 6:30. I have one other person already to split with so depending on the size of your mob, we may need two Super shuttles. anywho my email is dragonakakrisAHotmailDOTcom, replace the caps with the appropriate signs of course!

There's four of us, so that fills six of the eight seats, which sounds good to me! ^_^

I'll try to catch all (or at least one) of them tonight and see what they think; hopefully I can give you the go-ahead for booking asap!

I'm thinking I'd better call and reserve Monday's van soon. Approximately how many in your "mob" ? I'd hate to make someone run along behind! :laugh:

Re:Super Shuttle

Four of us ^_^

Re:Super Shuttle

All righty, I made the reservation for the shuttle to take us back to the airport. It will be to the hotel at the horrific time of 5:10 to 5:25 AM!:(

But at least we'll get to the airport without having to rush. :laugh:

As of now, there are 6 of us so it will work out to 12.50 USD a person. Please be kind to me, it is reserved on my credit card! And will be charged on it as of 5:10 am that morning.

Re:Super Shuttle

Do you mean arriving at the hotel 5:10 am on thursday,or arriving at the airport to leave sfo for 5:10 am??

Re:Super Shuttle

Posted by toshirodragon - 2008/08/29 17:19

I apologize, it wasn't til I scanned up thru the thread I realized you'd already told me how many. I blame the heat of the summer :laugh:

Anyway the van I reserved, according to the website, holds 9 people. It was a flat fee of 65.00USD and I added 10.00 for the poor sod who had to drive it a tip! hahaha

So if we find 3 more people willing to stumble out at that hour, it will be even less per person.

Leaving the hotel for the airport at 5:10 AM Monday, I apologize... for a writer I'm horrid with clarity on forums.

We'll be arriving at terminal 1 - do you happen to know whether there's one particular area the shuttles operate from, or do they work at each terminal?

It sounds like we'd be best off trying to meet you at terminal 3 anyway (probably on the path outside after you've gotten your bags?), but I have no idea how/if we'd be able to get there. Do you have any idea if the shuttle'd be able to pick you up at terminal 3 and then come around to terminal 1? Otherwise, I can see us having to get a cab to meet you or something XD

Re:Super Shuttle

You can take the train from one terminal to another, I've done that. When I reserved our return van online it asked what airline I was leaving on. I'm hoping ithe van driver will be able to drop us all at our respective terminals, I wouldn't think since he's there at the airport anyway that it'd be an issue.
I'm going to call and confirm that the shuttle is reserved yada yada Thursday anyway.

If there's a train running between terminals, it makes things much easier - thanks for letting me know ^_^

Re:Super Shuttle

We could probably go to the airports website and find a map of the airport to find a spot where we could meet.

Re:Super Shuttle

Posted by Neko_Bazu - 2008/09/04 10:47

I've had a look on the site, and terminal three has a designated 'pre-arranged van' area. Assuming that's where we'd get the Shuttle from, should we meet you there? It seems like the least confusing and most logical place!

Finally got a reply from the others in my group! They're happy to go ahead with this, so if you wanna make the booking, there's four of us plus you and whoever else ^_^

Thank you for this, from all of us ^_^

It's done, we need to be waiting at 5:10 am Monday morning. It will be 12.50 a person with your four me and another woman who needs a ride at that time. If we can find 3 more people it will be less a person but a full van.

It's not a problem!:cheer: I needed to be at the airport early and splitting the cost makes it even better... and more fun with a crowd.

You'll have to talk to chrismage about it, as she's the one who actually booked the shuttle, and a PM's probably your best chance of getting noticed. I don't know if there's time enough to change the booking (if it needs to be) or exactly how we're doing for space, so I can't make any promises - but either way, chrismage is the one~
